

Reinterpretation of Shia political thoughts in Iran with emphasis on Imam Khomeini's (PBUH) thoughts

Writer: Mohammad Reza Haji Abbasi Farsi

Submitted to: Islamic Azad university, central Tehran unit, political science department

Year: 1381

Synopsis:

The aim of this research work is to examine the thoughts areas of taking place of Islamic revolution and its victory based on the view of the cultural approach and examining the effect of political and religious jurisprudence thoughts of the leadership of the revolution and the effect of religious modernization on the change of people's political behavior during 43 to 57. The research method in this research work is a descriptive-explanatory one and it is also based on a library one. The tools regarding measurement are Islamic, jurisprudential, and other books that are compiled and they are related to Islamic revolution resources. Reinterpretation of Shia political thoughts has led to this that the latter has gotten a political ideology and it has a form. That is a tool for fighting against the rule. And Imam's (peace be upon him) thoughts role has been this that it has removed the dust and fragility and compromise with the time rulers and it has changed Shia ideology into one that is progressive and it is stimulant.