

The impact of timing and surroundings for issuing religious decrees by relying on Imam Khomeini's views

By Zuhreh Fida Hossein

Year: 2006

Abstract:

Lots of changes happened in the new and progressive world of today on which the Islamic jurisprudence and religious expertise have to master in order to get the qualification and the ability in responding humanistic and Islamic questions of peoples. The inquisitive jurisprudence which has a look at the two elements of time and place in making the right answers to peoples religious questions (which call Ejtehad), it can make it by caring principles of Shariat and expressive religion as Islam. Islamic revolution and establishing Islamic republic in Iran put a strong emphasize on the necessity of paying attention to inquisitive jurisprudence and the two elements of time and place and Imam Khomeini as the reviver of religion in the contemporary era by postulation of this very important issue in scientific and executive rank caused growth of this view point in connection with jurisprudence and hard working on making the right answers to peoples' questions. This study's tried to have quick look on various elements of this theory and its general procedure and some of the details of this great spiritual change in the field of jurisprudence and process of exerting religious decrees.

Key words: Imam Khomeini, Timing and space or surroundings, the process of exerting religious decrees, Jurisprudence