

The great wise saying according to Imam Khomeini

Author: Azeemee, Hurieh

The year: 1381

Submitted to: Qom university, the theology and the Islamic knowledge department

Abstract:

This research discusses the collection of his excellency Imam (peace be upon him) 's philosophical thoughts through his philosophical, words, the mystical, the moral, the jurisprudential, those that have a principle, the speech and his poetical works and ... and it compares his views with that sage and the other sages and during its discussions it shows his excellency Imam's innovations and it expresses the strong aspects and the ingenuities of him beside the philosophical views of the past including those of Molla Sadra. This thesis is compiled having two parts one is the general or the theological matters and those have a general meaning and the theology one and that has a particular meaning and each one of them includes several chapters. His excellency Imam (peace be upon him) despite respecting the philosophers and the mystics including Meerdamad, Molla Sadra, Abnearabi and Mohammad Reza Ghomsheee but in some cases he criticizes his views and he reveals the weaknesses that are there in their views. This thesis has made an effort to show the innovative views of his excellency Imam Khomeini (peace be upon him) compared to the other philosophers and through that it has shown the degree of Imam's innovations and the degree of his loyalty concerning the being wise at a great degree and through that it has become clear that how he has used the discussions of the Quran, those are of a story kind, those that are mystical and that that are of the word kind in order to make anew what is a philosophical system.

Key words: Imam Khomeini, the great wise saying, the Quran, the Hadiths, the mysticism, the words, the philosophical system