

Use and application of jurisprudential rules from Imam Khomeini's viewpoint

Author: Azam Samadi Quchani

Year: 2008

University: Faculty of Literature and Humanities, Islamic Azad University, Sabzevar Branch

Abstract

The Islamic jurisprudential principles can make the legal system updated, dynamic and responsive to new emerging issues during the age of technology and scientific era.

Therefore, Imam Khomeini as the champion of dynamic ijtehad and enhancement of jurisprudence has paid special attention in his works and books to the government rulings.

The research, which includes an introduction and several chapters and sections, attempts to examine the views of Imam on the jurisprudential rulings regarding governance and governmental matters.

The research proves importance of jurisprudence rulings in the Islamic legal system as well as individual, social and governmental aspects.

It especially examines and expresses the opinion of Imam Khomeini about all above-mentioned subjects.

In the Islamic legal system, in addition to the individual rules, social and governmental jurisprudential perspectives are of great significance.

Key words: Imam Khomeini, jurisprudential principles, laws, Islamic governance and government, rules, society