Abstract:

The present dissertation has discussed in detail the youth issues and their mission from Imam Khomeini's point of view.

It consists of three chapters to comprehend all perspectives regarding the topic.

In the first chapter, the author has presented the issue of puberty, emotional characteristics, social development, as well as the needs of youth.

In the second chapter, the issues and problems facing the youth, new emerging hurdles and their solutions have been discussed with detail.

And in the third and final chapter, the duties, obligations and mission assigned for the youth form the center of our main debate.

And Imam Khomeini's guidance and principles are the guiding star in this regard. The authentic references have been cited from famous Imam's works and books to prove our assumptions.
