Abstract:

What is in this thesis is Imam Khomeini's view on five principles of religion. Tawheed: in this chapter first the case for proving the creator is pointed out and then I examine the argument regarding mandatory attributes of the exalted.

His Excellency believes that there are two ranks regarding Godly attributes and they are as follows: the rank of essence and the rank of deed. Adl (justice): chapter two is about Adl; putting forward two important views regarding Godly Adl or justice and they are Eshaereh and Motazeleh he rejects their views and he puts forward a case in order to reject those two.

Then a right saying in an expanded form is expressed and after that the subject of destiny is put forward and in the second segment of chapter two putting forward doubts regarding Godly justice in general and then as they are questions they are answered.

Nabovat: in chapter three first I examine the subjects related to general Nabovat and then I talk about the incentive for sending the prophets and prophetic mission and chastity of the prophets is thought to be a subject that is related to science. But that science does not lead to obedience and sin and it has to do with greatness and Godly glory. Also at the end I examine particular Nabovat and its related subjects according to the deceased Imam.

Imamat: in this chapter expressing the necessity of Imamat in order to prove that some reasons will be mentioned. The deceased Imam putting forward the duty of those who are Shia in the age of absence has proven the subject of guardianship of jurisprudence and he has expressed reasoning for that offering a case. And at the end of this chapter I mention an argument about shia and one of its ideas and that is dissimulation.

Ma'ad: the fifth chapter has to do with Moad and first I prove that. Then expressing that the soul is single and its various kinds various kinds of reincarnation is rejected and I answer the questions regarding the doubts of those who believe that that is correct. Then I point out the subject of death and I talk about subjects such as the world of awkward, the world and afterlife, bodily and ecclesiastical Ma'ad and pandemonium.
