

Believers and no-believers, trustworthy and non-trustworthy according to Imam Khomeini

Author: Moslem Behzadee

The Year: 1376 AHS

Submitted to: the education and training center of the teaching affiliated with Amir kabeer University

Abstract

In this research I as a researcher first put forward what is the subject and within a subgrade and that concerns noting the Imam and his Excellency's will and also his emphasis based on the is that if I am among you or if I am not among you I recommend this and according to my will note this that do not let this revolution fall in the hands of those who disbelieve and those who are not trustworthy.

And while doing that I express the necessity of this research and after that I examine the Imam and his Excellency's will and in doing that what there is has a subject form and then considering a content examination subject I mention the imam and his Excellency's recommendations and also admonitions while expressing those as far as what there are as a statistical thing and also what there are concerning a graph are concerned and in the meantime I separate the disbelievers from the believers and I point out the Imam's admonitions regarding each of them and they belong to two groups based on the will.

Key words: Imam Khomeini, the Islamic revolution, those who do not believe, those who are not trustworthy, a will