

Title: The Impact of Imam Khomeini's views on International Relations

Author: Majid Torabi

University: School of International Relations, Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Abstract

The author first reviews the basic principles of international relations and its various schools of thought and their domain, then he examines political decision-making from Imam's perspective regarding both domestic and international relations, following the current system and how Imam's views has transformed the international system.

Keywords: Imam Khomeini, Political Thought, International Relations